PARAGUAYAN WAR.

Lopez Builds a Second Humaita—His Position and Resources Unimpaired—Caxias' Pro-mises Unredeemed.

The regular mail steamer from Rio Janeiro has arrived at Lisbon, with dates to May 9. The following s the substance of her news from the seat of war on the Rio Paragusy:—

The latest authentic accounts left Marshal Lopez, President of the Paraguayan republic and Com-mander-in-Chief of the Paraguayan forces, at the confluence of the Rios Tebicuari and Paraguay. He had succeeded in concentrating at that point a powerful body of troops, whose posien presented to the allies at the fort Humaiis, which he regards as the counterpart of his present military position. of the trustees by the General Conference, to hold said property in perpetuity. Adopted.

The Committee on the State of the Church reported a resolution endorsing the Ladies' Pastors' Christian Union of Philadelphia, and recommending it as a model for all other cities. Adopted.

The same committee reported having carefully considered the memorial from Elkton, Md., praying this General Conference to reseind the vote of censure passed on two members of the body in 1838 for attending an anti-slavery prayer meeting, and recommend that the vote be rescinded. Adopted.

Bishop Ames submitted a paper and requested it be referred to the Committee on Conference Lay Delegations, which was read. It contained a plan for the organization of a house of lay delegates, to act in conjunction with the General Conference. Bishop Ames said the plan had been examined and approved by four or five of his colleagues. Referred.

The Committee on the State of the Church reported in favor of establishing weekly religious newspapers in New Orleans, Charleston, Knoxville and Atlanta. Adopted.

Curry, of New York, made a long speech against the majority report.

Dr. Haven, from the special Committee on Conference Ley Delegations, reported a pian, substantially the same as that of the majority, subject to the approval of both laity and ministry. It was adopted by a vote of 226 to 3, amid loud demonstrations of satisfaction from floor and galieries.

In the afternoon session, Bishop Clark in the chair, Rev. J. T. Gracy, a missionary from India, addressed the Conference at some length on the relations of the Indian Mission Conference to the Church at home.

The order of the day was then taken up. Rev. Thomas Carlton was elected book agent for New York, and Rev. John Lamshan, assistant; Rev. D. Curry, D. D., was elected editor of the New York Advocate; Rev. S. M. Merrill was elected editor of the Western Christian Advocate; Rev. D. D. Wheaton was elected editor of the Western Christian Advocate; Rev. D. D. Wheaton was elected editor of the Quarterly Review; Rev. J. T. Gracy, of the lindia Conference, was admitted to a seat as a delegate.

It was determined by an impartial majority that the vote upon the question of reunion shall be taken at half-past eight o'clock this evening.

Mr. Robert McKnight, of Pittsburg, from the joint committee of the two churches on that subject, addressed the Assembly in support of the report in an able and effective argument, explaining the action of the committee, defining the proposed basis of union and answering objections to it.

Dr. Charles C. Beatty, of Ohlo, of the committee, also sustained the report.

In the evening session the vote was taken on the adoption of the first or doctrinal article of the basis of union with the New School Church, and it was adopted by the following vote:—Ayes, 185; noes, 77; excused 2. Various amendments to the article were voted down. A vote will be taken on the remaining articles to-morrow morning.

Suspension of a Minister—The Case of Mr. Stuart.

The Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church, after an exciting session of nine days, adjourned to meet in 1869, at Cedarville, Ohio.

The principal time of the Synod was occupied in the consideration of charges against George H. Stuart for singing hymns, which resulted in his suspension.

Dr. Wylie and the session of the First Reformed church of Philadelphia were suspended and prohibited from any judicial action in all cases now pending in that church presbytery of Philadelphia, and also restrained and prohibited from any action arising from those cases.

Dr. McLeod presented reasons for voting nay on Mr. Stuart's case, after having so strongly advocated his suspension.

A large meeting was held to-day in Tren A large meeting was held to-day in Tromont Temple under the auspices of the Free Religious Association, of which the Rev. O. B. Frothingham president. The president opened with a few remarks in explanation of the object of the society. He said the society is called the Free Religious Association, and its objects are religious, not political, social, reformatory or even Christian. We use the term 'religious," a term that cannot be confined within the limits of any sect or denomination. We come down to the prime-val element of religion and then rest there. We have definite and precise ideas and a definite and precise purpose to attain, and are satisfied to laying broad principles that evolve glorious results in the future.

Addresses followed by the Rev. James Freeman Clark and others.

The only fear I had was that you would not ask me for a speech. (Laughter.) It would afford me, ladies and gentlemen, much more pleasure than I can express to make a speech, if I thought I could do so in terms commensurate with this brilliant and hiberal assemblage to-night. There are times, ladies and gentlemen, when the heart is too full to give expression to the feelings, and such is my position this moment. To-morrow night I shall have concluded my first managerial career in the city of New York, where I have lived, man and boy, for thirty years; and I am happy to say the season will terminate both pleasantly and profitably to me. (Applause.) Every person behind the curtain, ladies and gentlemen, from the most humble auxiliary to the leading actor, seemed to vie with each other to make the season both pleasant and profitable. And, ladies and gentlemen, these favorites in the theatre will remain next season, with an addition of names. The orchestra, conducted by Mr. Withers, whose past precision and talent have made him a reputation as a leader, will also remain. (Applause.) It is not my vocation to despatch an agent to Europe for talent—(applause)—simply from the fact that we have more at home than they have there. (Applause.) I say that with all due respect to foreign artists, because American artists have supplied the British stage for the last twelve years. (Applause.)
